EX-PRESIDENT HAYES says the Republicans will carry New York.

"Fair play is a jewel" — The convention was determined to have it, even if the delegates had to fight for it.

If every Republican in the country is as well satisfied with the convention's work as THE TIMES is, there should be nothing to disturb the harmony of this campaign.

Gov. RUSSELL A. ALGER is reported to have left a check for $100,000 at the National Republican Committee's headquarters in New York. There is nothing small about Alger.

The world will soon be girdled with a belt of steel. It is now possible to travel from London to Samarang, in Central Asia, by rail and steamboat, in eight days and twenty-two hours.

The funniest objection to the Republican national platform comes from the London Saturday Review, which says the platform is "too patriotic." That is certainly an unanswerable objection.

A CORRESPONDENT calls attention to the evidence of the sectional character of the Mills Bill furnished by the retention of the 100 per cent duty on rice and 68 per cent on sugar, while wool is made free. As our correspondent observes, this is the way the average of 30 per cent that the Democrats talk so much about is kept up.

We have received from Iowa a letter urgently requesting us to write an able editorial in favor of the erection of a monument to "Mr. Potter." We promptly respond. Mr. Potter was no doubt a great statesman, and deserves a very tall monument. If our correspondent had had the forethought to send us a pedigree of Potter, with a diagram and specifications, we could have made this editorial much abler and more exhausting.

Of the seventeen members of the Oro Fino Club who were induced to withdraw through a scheme concocted in the Tribune office, for the purpose of disorganizing the club, over a dozen have returned, and the remainder will not be admitted by the club. Several of those whose names were appended to the Tribune resolution say they were not present and did not sign it, and one of the bolters admits that the document was framed in the Tribune office. Thus has another carefully-conceived plan of the "only pure Republican paper" come to grief.

A SELF-RIGHTEOUS but vulnerable sheet—"the only pure Republican journal," etc., etc.—casts an oblique and sneaking look on the community, because one of its pets has not been shown public favor, intimating that it is altogether too pure (with a large P) to get office in a community which tolerates "an extreme degree of blackguardism," etc. A community that tolerates revenue robbers, whisky thieves, sour-mash apostles, grand and potent politicians, political mercenaries, and other gentlemen and cattle of that sort has also a good deal to answer for.

An Arrangement of the Prohibitionists.

In a recent issue of the Chicago Inter Ocean, Judge Albion Tourgee has a courteous, candid and irrefutable criticism of the motives and ends of the Prohibitionists, which deserves the careful consideration of all those mistaken persons who believe that they can best forward the interests of temperance by giving their support to a party whose avowed object is to destroy the most potent friend which temperance has in the United States.

Judge Tourgee commences by conceding the inalienable right of the American citizen to go his own political way, and ally himself with any party which he believes will best serve the cause of good government. It is when the Prohibitionists lay claim to an exceptional and exclusive sincerity of purpose that they violate the plainest principles of political ethics, and invite the same sort of invective in which they choose to deal. A party claiming exceptional purity of purpose cannot expect to be treated with exceptional consideration. The Prohibitionists must be content to be judged by the rules which apply to all political organizations.

The National Prohibition party, says Judge Tourgee, judged by the rule governing the action of all parties, must be taken to intend one of four things: (1) To secure control of the National Government at the ensuing election; or (2), to defeat the Republican party in the hope of accomplishing its dismemberment; or (3), to prevent the repeal of the internal revenue tax upon the sale of spirits and tobacco, unless the people will consent to give them the power to do this and all other things that they may desire, in their own way; or (4), to secure as an objective the continued ascendancy of the Democratic party, with Grover Cleveland and the solid South at its head. No one has yet been bold enough to assert even the shadow of an expectation that the Prohibitionists will succeed in electing their candidates. Its candidates were not nominated with any such expectation. Neither were they nominated with the hope of defeating the Democratic party. Of its entire vote of 152,000 in 1884, more than two-thirds were obtained in States giving Republican majorities. To show that the prime object of the Prohibitionists is to secure the defeat of the Republicans in the close States, Judge Tourgee advances these indubitable facts:

(1) The Prohibition party did secure the vote of the Republican party in 1884.

(2) Its membership in the States of the North—the only ones where its vote can be of any significance in a national election—is probably less than one-fourth of the Republican vote, and not one-fifth of the Democratic vote.

(3) In some of these States, at least, Democratic saloon-keepers contributed funds to the Prohibition campaign for the express purpose of defeating the Republicans.

(4) The virulent attacks of the Prohibitionists on the Republican party unmistakably disclose the hand that guides them, and organization.

(5) The Democratic press, which in any practical State issue are the most violent and persistent in their opposition to the Prohibition party, and entirely refrain from unfriendly comment in a national campaign, showing that they universally regard the Prohibitionists as their political allies.

The Prohibitionists have a right to seek the defeat of the Republican party, but they have no right to disown responsibility or to deny their purpose. A Democratic success is a Prohibition triumph. Grover Cleveland is the choice of the Prohibition party for President, and, if elected, will owe his success to their efforts.

For years the Prohibitionists have been denouncing the Republican party for having imposed and continued in force the internal revenue tax. Now that the Republican party proposes the repeal of this law, in whole or part, and its convention adopts a resolution favoring legislation for the protection of the home, while the Senate reports in favor of submitting a prohibitory amendment to the States, one would suppose that such acts would at least be regarded as gratifying and commendable by those who have been for years clamorous for these very things. The very contrary is the case. Never has the malignant aversion of the Prohibitionists to the Republicans been so openly displayed as since these things were done. The Prohibitionists are placed in the predicament of being willing to do what they themselves admit to be the most infamous of lies, in order to try the experiment of doing the right thing in their own way. Every vote cast for the Prohibition ticket is a vote for the continuance of the very evils which they so loudly decry.

There can be no doubt in the mind of any unprejudiced person of the truth of Judge Tourgee's reasoning. The Prohibitionists cannot shirk the responsibility for the effects of the course which they are pursuing. They are, as a rule, more than ordinarily intelligent men. They are doing evil that good may come, and the evil will remain, while the good will not be attained.

Southern California on Wheels.

We are glad to learn that the proposed advertising scheme by which the agricultural resources of Southern California are to be shown in the East on a train load of cars is meeting with much encouragement in San Bernardino and San Diego counties and will surely be put through. This project is on a more complete scale than anything of the sort hitherto attempted. A train load of cars will be fitted up with every variety of agricultural and horticultural produce raised in this section, showing every stage in its growth, with plain statistics of cost, profits, etc., of each crop. This train will not be kept in the large cities, but taken to the smaller towns, giving farmers a good opportunity to see with their own eyes what they have heard so much about. "Seeing is believing," and the result of such conclusive proofs of our natural wealth cannot fail to return a thousand fold for the outlay. The traveling exposition will have an advance agent like any other show, and will undoubtedly excite as much interest as a circus. In addition to the exhibit, an exhaustive pamphlet will be prepared for distribution. It is proposed to light the cars by electricity, and a stereoscopic exhibition of Southern California scenes will also be given. The managers expect to be ready to start about March next.

The local political situation in San Diego, which has been a good deal disturbed, of late, is outlined in the following private letter from there, dated the 26th inst.:

You are doubtless aware that we have had a little "ruction" in San Diego over the action of the County Central Committee in ignoring the voters and appointing the delegates to the State Convention. This action aroused so much feeling that the party in question, the Progressives, were forced to resign. The action of the committee was illegal, owing to the fact that but seven of the fifteen members comprising it were present. This is set forth in the resolutions adopted by the convention. Maj. Balbach offered resolutions indorsing the action of the National Convention, and they went through with a whirl.

An effort has been made to bring out Judge Luce in opposition to Gen. Vandever, but the Judge declines the honor, and now the General's opponents are at sea. The action of the committee was illegal, owing to the fact that but seven of the fifteen members comprising it were present. This is set forth in the resolutions adopted by the convention. Maj. Balbach offered resolutions indorsing the action of the National Convention, and they went through with a whirl.

The investigation of the immigration affairs of the country has not commenced any too soon. Every day that the investigation continues the evidence produced shows more clearly how necessary restrictive measures are. At yesterday's session of the committee in New York, testimony was introduced to show that there are several societies in Germany, with government officials among the directors, whose avowed purpose it is to send discharged criminals to this country. It is high time that stern measures were taken to prevent the United States from being used as the dumping ground for European criminals. Our duty to posterity, as well as self-interest, demands the framing of strong legislation for the protection of this country from such a threatening evil.

GREAT cities breed poverty and crime in the United States as well as in Europe. Food for thought is furnished by the fact that, last month, New York's police magistrates committed 4667 children to charitable institutions. The class of immigration which we should especially encourage is that of agriculturists with some little means, who will go on the land and raise something instead of hanging around the centers of population and becoming a burden and danger to the community. Of such immigrants as we have indicated we cannot have too many.

Mr. ST. JOHN has corrected the published reports of what he said about the Republican party at Indianapolis, and gives the official report of his statement, which we cheerfully reproduce:

It is the aim of the Prohibitionists to smash the liquor traffic, and if the benighted Republican party, or the whisky-soaked Democratic party, stands between us and the object that party will get hurt. The Republican party will continue to battle for morality, law and order, long after the Prohibitionists have become a half-forgotten reminiscence.

FRED DOUGLASS well and truthfully says:

"The colored people of the United States are neither knaves nor fools. They will not let the hand that smites them, nor desert the party to which they owe their liberty, their citizenship and their enfranchisement. Whatever other class may fail in loyalty to the great Republican party and its candidates, Harrison and Morton, the colored citizens of the Republic will not fail of their duty in November."

Were the colored vote fairly counted in the Southern States, the Democrats would have no more show than an iceberg at Yuma.

A LETTER from J. S. ("Rhet") Clarkson, chairman of the National Executive Committee, contains the following wholesome opinions: "Harrison is all right on the Chinese question. We are going to down the rebel crew again this fall, sure. Enthusiasm is great in Iowa, and still greater in the Eastern States. We expect California to fight a good fight and give a grand Republican majority."

The intention of the convention, when it resolved to reorganize the County Central Committee, was manifestly to have a thorough change in the composition of that committee. Unless this be done, the object of the convention will not have been attained. The Republican voters expect that the expressed will of the convention shall be carried out in good faith, and that new blood shall be instilled into an important member of the local Republican body with which much dissatisfaction has been expressed of late, and yet more felt, but not expressed. The new committee has it in its power to remove these well-grounded causes of dissatisfaction by mobilizing from its ranks, or from the ranks of the party at large, an effective fighting force—an able executive committee.

It seems that the slave trade still exists on a large scale in Africa. The Archbishop of Algiers, in a recent discourse in Paris, stated that not less than 400,000 slaves are annually sold in Africa, and as only one-fifth of these human chattels ever reach the shore, this would represent the enormous total of 2,000,000 negroes who are either sold into captivity each year or murdered while being captured. Civilized nations should combine to crush this infamous traffic.

A GOOD example of southern intolerance is furnished by the refusal of Senator Colquitt and Congressman Stewart to invite Congressman McKinley to address a southern audience on the tariff question at the proposed Chautauqua gathering in Atlanta, Ga. The anti-bellum spirit is still very prominent in the South. Colquitt and Stewart are good instances of the narrowness and ignorance which are at the bottom of the tariff question.

ONE of the Democratic schemes to make Wisconsin a doubtful State involves nothing less than an alliance with the radical "labor" element in Milwaukee, whose hatred Gov. Rusk incurred when he suppressed the incipient Anarchist outbreak by force of arms. Let the Democrats take up the cause of the Anarchists, if they dare, and then see how much it will help them.

The Republican Convention did a graceful and well-timed thing just before the close of its session Friday night in instructing the delegates to the State Convention to support Congressman Vandever for a renomination. There is no doubt that he will be nominated, and there is no doubt, further, that he will get there again.

THERE is a general feeling of deep satisfaction among local Republicans at the effectual manner in which bossism was rebuked at the late Republican Convention, and a universal belief that the campaign in this county, though not short, will be sharp and decisive.

The Louisiana Legislature contemplates passing a bill forbidding corporations holding real estate longer than ten years. Louisiana evidently thinks that considerable good money is being dissipated in real estate in that State which ought to be invested in the lottery.

The Herald will have it that raisin-makers rather like the proposed reduction in the tariff on their product. Some soft-hearted fishermen maintain that eels like being skinned, but the general consensus of opinion is against both that and the Herald's views.

DEMOCRATS are already sick of the "bandana" hurrah. The Kansas City Times has a song which starts out as follows:

"Come all ye gallant Democrats
 And rally round our banner—
 The glorious Stars and Stripes we mean,
 And not a red bandana."

CONGRESSMAN MORROW predicts 15,000 Republican majority in California on the tariff issue. We ought certainly to do at least as well as that, if not better. With a little well-directed energy and enthusiasm, the figures should be worked up to 20,000.

CANADIAN newspapers complain because so many people in that country wanted to celebrate the Fourth of July instead of the 1st, which is the Dominion's birthday. Our northern neighbors will soon be good members of Uncle Sam's family.

In 1882 Cleveland had 192,554 majority in New York. In 1884 he had less than 1500. At the same rate of progression Harrison ought to carry the State by about 192,000 votes. We will, however, be content with 10 per cent. of that number.

THE list of prominent Democrats who will this year vote the Republican ticket becomes so large that it is impossible to keep track of half the names. We cannot begin to handle it without a new font of nonpareil.

SENATOR BLAIR'S bill to regulate naturalization may or may not in all of its details meet popular approval, but its chief purpose is undoubtedly in line with a growing popular sentiment.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE OPERA-HOUSE.—The Salisbury Troubadours closed their week last night in Three of a Kind, after playing to good audiences.

On Monday the opera-house will be closed, and on Tuesday The Soap Bubble another farce, will furnish food for laughter.

MEN AND WOMEN OF THE COAST.

Gen. George Stoneman has gone east. James D. Phelan has been at Santa Cruz for several days.

Mrs. James de la Montanya, Jr., is the guest of Mrs. F. E. Spencer, at San Jose.

William T. Coleman has engaged a cottage at Newport and will occupy it until winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barton and family of Fresno have been visiting the Yosemite Valley.

CD. O. Mills, Edgar Mills and Edgar Mills, Jr., have gone to Europe, and will return in November.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. de Young were at Long Branch recently. They will return home in about a week.

San Diego's Exhibit at Columbus.

The work of the committee having in charge the Cincinnati exhibit is about completed. Sufficient money has been placed in their hands, and the first shipment of citrus fruits has been sent forward to the exposition. Mr. Switzer, who has been out in the country collecting material for the exhibit, will return today, having made a successful canvass. The first car will be sent east during the latter part of the week, and will contain sufficient to make a very creditable exhibit. It will be added to during the summer by shipments by express, and another carload of fruit sent later.

WILL NOT SIGN.

Dakota Indians Present Their Ultimatum.

They Will Make No Treaty Giving Up Their Lands.

The Kansas War Becoming Serious—Gov. Martin Interferes.

Chicago Anarchists Locked Up for Safe Keeping—Fending Their Trial—How America Is Made the Dumping Ground for European Convicts.

By Telegraph to The Times.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) July 29.—Morning.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Standing Rock agency, received at 2 o'clock this morning, says: The ultimatum of the Indians was given to the commissioners today. The Indians were in council all Thursday night, and after many speeches, everyone assented to a proposition not to sign the treaty. John Goss was chosen to present the ultimatum to the commission, assisted by Gall and other chiefs.

Goss referred to the former treaties broken by the whites and spoke about the Black Hills treaty. Chairman Pratt said that their lands could not be taken except by consent of three-quarters of the Indians. This was the proposition of the other treaty. How, then, did the whites take the Black Hills, seven times the size of the Indian reservation? The Indians were fools then, as they always had been in making treaties, "and," he said, "we hope that we and our children will talk slow and not be fools hereafter. You move other Indian tribes among us of the land given to them. We don't want this, and other tribes will not like it either. The Government should give us what it now gives before it asks for more. We have our crops to look after, and must get back to work. We will not sign. We came here because our agent asked us to. We did not want to shame him. You can't get us to sign."

After Goss finished Gall was called, and simply affirmed what had been said.

At Chairman Pratt's request the Indians agreed to stay until Monday, but said that they would not sign then. McLaughlin, the agent who has the complete confidence of the Indians, has done all he could to influence them to sign, but to no avail. Gov. Church and Auditor Ward will be down at Monday's conference, but there is little prospect of a change in sentiment.

A DUMPING GROUND.

Criminals Systematically Shipped From Europe to This Country.

NEW YORK, July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] When the four Congressmen who are investigating the immigration affairs of the country assembled today, Paul Wolff, Washington correspondent of the New York Staats Zeitung, took the witness stand and stated that some three years ago he was informed that there were several societies in Germany, and especially in Bavaria, formed for the purpose of sending discharged criminals to this country. Witness laid his information before Assistant Secretary of State Porter, and that gentleman wrote to the American Consul at Munich on the subject, who replied, in December, 1885, that there were no such societies.

Witness then read extracts from reports from one of these societies, showing that in 1887, 27 discharged convicts were sent to this country by these societies. The report said the worse the men are and the larger families they have the better fitted they are to send to America. Witness said the societies are a sort of Government affairs, and are controlled by the Emperor, Kaiser, and Prince Regent Luitpold is honorary president of one society. In 1886 their report is more cautiously worded, but it shows that out of 15,000 marks expended nearly half was used to assist immigrants to come to this country.

At this point Mayor Hewitt interrupted the proceedings to shake hands with the members of the committee and urge upon them an invitation to spend Sunday with him at his country seat. When he left the examination proceeded.

Witness had no statistics for the year 1887, but said that he knew of cases occurring this year. About two months ago, said two men came over on the Saale, but were sent back from Castle Garden. The American Consul at Munich learned of their being sent and called on the Castle Garden authorities. Witness believes that they were sent back to Hamburg and from there to England, from where they came over to this country under assumed names. He said that these societies give each of these assisted immigrants tickets to whatever place in this country they select, and give each 100 marks over and above that.

THE KANSAS WAR.

Four Men Killed—Conflicting Stories About the Fight.

LIBERAL (Kan.), July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The bodies of four men killed by the Hugoton party were brought to Voorhees, Stevens county, night before last, and, with the wounded boy, Herbert Toney, were afterward taken to Wooddale. No further shooting is reported. Herbert Toney, the 19-year-old boy who was so seriously wounded, made an ante-mortem statement today, in which he said that their party was surprised by 20 Hugoton men while resting near Wildhorse Lake, and that Sheriff Cross, Rolla Wilcox, Bob Hubbard and Cyrus W. Eaton were shot down in the blood. The Hugoton men afterward emptied their rifles into the bodies of the dead men, but did not come near him (Toney), and so he escaped death.

On the other hand, a local newspaper prints a statement of the signature of its editor, C. E. Cook, to the effect that Sheriff Cross and party first attacked the small party of Hugoton men, who were on the only trail strip within their families hunting, and attempted to kill Sam Robinson. The Hugoton men escaped, got reinforcements, and when returning, Cook asserts, they were ambushed by Cross and his four men and boy. When the fight was over the bodies of Cross and his posse were lying on the ground, while Sam Robinson, the only one of the Hugoton party injured, had a flesh wound in the leg.

TOPEKA (Kan.), July 28.—Gov. Martin has decided that the lawlessness engaged in by Stevens county people must stop. He has directed Atty.-Gen. Bradford and Brig.-Gen. Myers to proceed, investigate the situation and report to him as soon as possible. The Governor has also written to Congressman Peterson on the subject, in which he urges that the so-called "Marion Land" or neutral strip be placed under the jurisdiction of the Kansas District Court, in order that the United States Marshal may drive away outlaws and put a stop to those outrages.

SOLID SENSE.

Gen. Harrison on the Proper Use of the Surplus.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] Eight hundred or 1000 citizens of Jennings county paid their respects to Gen. Harrison today. In response to a speech of the leader the General touched upon the surplus and tariff issue. In speaking of the surplus he said:

"I agree that there is danger that the surplus may promote extravagance, but I do not find myself in sympathy with a policy which denies appropriations necessary for the proper defense of our people and for the convenient administration of our public affairs throughout the country in order that the rate of surplus may be used for similar purposes. I believe that in reducing our revenues to the level of our needful and proper expenditures we can and should continue to favor and protect our industries. I do not like to entrust this work to those who declare protective duties to be 'vicious, legalized robbery.' The Republican party has by legislation shown its capacity to wisely reduce our revenues, and at the same time to preserve the American system. [Applause.] It can be trusted to do the work that remains, and to do it wisely." [Applause.]

ALL FOR BRODIE.

A Foolish Girl's Infatuation with the Bridge-Jumper.

NEW YORK, July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] Steve Brodie, the bridge-jumper, and Bowery saloon-keeper, and an Albany girl, whom he is accused of abducting, were arraigned at the Tombs today. The girl's mother, Mrs. Laura Ford of Albany, was present, and admitted that the girl was 16 years old. The charge of abduction, therefore, fell through. It was then decided to hold the girl as an incorrigible. While waiting removal to the House of Mercy, the girl made a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to plunge the blade of a pocket-knife overboard. Had not an policeman caught her, her arm she would have succeeded. The girl remarked defiantly:

"Well, either I'll be allowed to go with Steve, or I'll do it myself."

Brodie and the girl have been living together for a week. He asserts they would have been married had it not been for the recent death of his wife.

LOOKED UP.

Two of the Chicago Anarchists Surrendered by Their Bondsmen.

CHICAGO, July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] When the cases of the Anarchist dynamiters were called in the Police Court this morning, Chapke and Chleboun, who had been on bail, failed to put in an appearance. Some excitement was created, and a report spread that they had fled the country. Chapke came this afternoon, however, with his bondsmen, and was jailed, his bondsmen fearing to carry him under the heavy bonds necessitated by additional indictments. It is understood that Chleboun is under arrest at a sub-station. Krouneck and Sevic are in jail.

Chicago Fruit Market.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Seven cars of California fruit were sold at the Union auction today. Pears of all grades were from very green to quite ripe, and sold at very satisfactory prices. Peaches were in large supply and sold for full values, the majority of this fruit being small in size and very green. Prices realized were as follows:

Early California peaches, 10¢ to 14¢; late Crawford, 11¢ to 13¢; Cling, 11¢ to 13¢; Susquehanna, 11¢ to 13¢; Columbia, 11¢ to 13¢; Bartlett pears, 8¢ to 10¢; Seckel pears, 8¢ to 10¢; German pears, 8¢ to 10¢; gross, 11¢ to 15¢; Bulgarian, 11¢; Hungarian, 11¢ to 15¢; nectarines, 11¢ to 15¢.

Transcontinental Rates.

CHICAGO, July 28.—The Transcontinental Association has decided a new freight tariff. It makes rates to and from all principal eastern points, the figures being exactly the same in both directions. The western classification will be applied to these rates. There will be a long commodity list, which will be issued in a few days, making special rates on all the leading classes. On some of the rates there are slight reductions. The rates to intermediate points between the Missouri river and Pacific Coast are based on the through rates, and are lower than the rates heretofore charged.

Went Down an Embankment.

GREAT BARRINGTON (Mass.), July 28.—As a party consisting of Joseph S. Greenwood, a well-known Brooklyn lawyer, his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Terry, and granddaughter, Mary L. Greenwood, and three other ladies, all of Brooklyn, were driving from here to their summer home, below Sheffield, the horses became frightened by a bicycle and overturned the carriage down an embankment. Greenwood's shoulder and side were badly bruised. Mrs. Terry's head was cut to the bone. Miss Greenwood's wrist was badly sprained, and others of the party were bruised.

Hoge and Murphy Held.

CHICAGO, July 28.—The cases of Chairman Hoge and Murphy, charged with being implicated in the Burlington dynamite conspiracy, were called in court this morning. The prisoners were represented by Judge Barnum, who stated that his clients would waive examination, and asked that the bail formerly given be allowed to stand for the time being. In the absence of any opposition from the prosecution this was done. Informers Kelly and McGilvray, Hoge's clerks, followed suit, waiving examination, and being held on their former bonds.

Tulare Troubled at Losing the Methodist Conference.

The Coronet Resumes Her Voyage Around the World.

A San Francisco Rumor That Henry T. Gage Is a Congressional Candidate—An Eastern Bargain Baggaged at Sacramento—Other Coast Gleanings.

By Telegram to The Times. SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] There is a big fire in Fresno, Fresno, July 28.—Morning.—A big fire is raging on the corner of K and Fresno streets in this city. The firemen are working hard, but the loss will not fall short of $50,000.

TULARE TROUBLED.

She Must Have the Coming Methodist Conference.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] A Tulare dispatch to the Chronicle says that the people of that place are much incensed at the evident intention of moving the seat of the Southern Methodist Episcopal Conference, which meets in September, from that city to Pasadena. The citizens believe that all requirements, such as free entertainment for delegates and other matters pertinent to the holding of the conference at Tulare, have been met by them, and this alleged determination on the part of the church officials to disregard their claims causes much indignation. Among the several reasons given who the conference should be held at Pasadena is said to be the resolutions passed by preachers in Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Diego counties setting forth their impoverished condition, and asking that the conference be transferred. It is said that this question of expense was thoroughly canvassed at the last session of the conference, when, by vote, Tulare was selected.

A BURGLAR BAGGED.

Capture of an Ohio Crook at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—[By the Associated Press.] Acting on instructions received from the authorities at Canton, O., Chief of Police Lee today arrested August Arthur, alias "Tate," wanted at Canton for burglary, and from which place he had fled on being released on bail. A letter was forwarded to the postoffice here for Arthur, and he was arrested on calling for it. The letter proved to be from one of Arthur's friends, and stated that two men connected with the latter in the burglary had during the trial implicated an innocent man, and that all three were serving terms in the Penitentiary. Extradition papers will be secured as soon as possible and Tate will be returned to Canton for trial.

McPherson escorted the yacht until far out at sea. The Coronet's party consists of Commander E. T. Bush, wife and son, W. Denslow and wife, Dr. Abbott and Frank Davis. Honolulu will be the first port stopped at.

The Bulgarian Throne in the Market.

The Duke of Cumberland Declines to Accept It.

Papal Diplomacy Prevents the Kaiser's Visit to Rome.

The Mithellstown Inquest Finds that Manderville's Death Was Caused by Brutal Treatment in Prison—During Part of an Assault, Etc.

By Telegram to The Times. BERLIN, July 28.—[Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.] The interview between Emperor William and King Christian of Denmark has special importance as associated with the settlement of a family question connected with the Bulgarian throne. The King appears to have given his assent to the creation of a Bulgarian monarchy with Prince Waldemar of the Duke of Cumberland on the throne. The Duke of Cumberland has decidedly rejected the offer which was made to him through Prince Bismarck. In his note refusing to accept the crown, he declares the proposal an insult to him as the legitimate King of Hanover, and expresses the hope that he is destined to see the King of Prussia reduced to his proper level. King Christian of Denmark declines Prince Waldemar to accept the throne of Bulgaria, if the emperor declines the throne of Bulgaria. It is also asserted in certain circles that Prince Ferdinand will be assisted to maintain his position in Bulgaria.

VATICAN WINS. The protest of the Vatican against the visit of Emperor William to Rome has proved effectual. Cardinal Gaubert, papal nuncio at Vienna, is reported to have secretly seen Prince Bismarck at Friedrichsruhe. Bismarck has assented to the proposal to have Gaubert to meet Emperor William in Berlin, and ask him personally to forego his visit to Rome. One result of the Vatican's diplomatic triumph is that Minister Crispien has sent instructions to the Italian embassy in Paris to institute negotiations for a commercial treaty with France. Berlin circles are strongly distrustful of the Italian Government's account of its relations with France.

OLD WORLD ECHOES. Prison Authorities Held Responsible for Manderville's Death. DUBLIN, July 28.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The jury at Mithellstown, investigating the death of John Manderville, today returned a verdict declaring that his death was caused by unjustifiable treatment to which he was subjected in Mithellstown Prison. They also found the practice of treating political prisoners the same as ordinary criminals. The coroner summed up the evidence as against incriminating any persons for the death of Manderville.

A French Banker's Yacht.

London Telegram. A strange-looking craft is visible on the Seine just at present. It is moored at the little island of the Vert-Galant, close to the Pont-Neuf, and in general appearance looks like one of the ordinary river lighters, or gabares, which carry goods through the waterways of France. On nearer inspection, however, the gabare turns out to be a most carefully constructed and sumptuously decorated specimen of its class of craft. It is, in fact, a well-appointed "junk," which has been built by a rather eccentric provincial banker for himself and his family. Around its sides are iron rails and books for awnings, and in its interior are a saloon, a dining-room, two bedrooms, a bathroom, a kitchen, and a wonderful of all, a stable and coach-house. The cabin, or rather, rooms, for private use, are fitted up, not only comfortably, but artistically, and there is even a piano in the drawing-room. The stables hold four horses, the animals being as comfortable in their stalls as if they were in a big stable in chateau or town house. The boat is built of iron, is of about 200 tons burden, and can be navigated on most of the French rivers. The cost of the craft was £2400. Its owner, M. Barot, disdains railways and ordinary means of locomotion. He merely uses his horses and carriages for traveling in cities and other places where his big "junk" cannot go. Wherever there is a river or canal he journeys along it quite comfortably in his gabare, and enjoys fresh air and quiet away from the shriek of engines or the bustling life of big termini. He never has a hotel bill to pay, and he intends to live with his family in his boat during the great exhibition, when he is to spend two or three months in Paris. People have already begun to speak about "Diogenes in his tub," but M. Barot goes along in his gabare and heeds nobody.

Popular Fancy for Horrors.

And now Ned Foster and Jack Halman propose to exhibit the corpse of Goldenson in their museum of criminal horrors. The interest in Big Bertha is waning, and a fresh monster is to be had to appease the taste of a vitiated public. We believe such exhibitions diametrically not only to good taste but common sense. Next to the desire to witness crime is the desire to behold the criminal and gloat over the details.

FANCY FREE.

A Delightful Trip Abroad by Proxy—Late in the Old World.

SANTA BARBARA, July 28.—[Staff Correspondence of THE TIMES.] I have been taking a journey into foreign lands, by proxy, since I reached Santa Barbara, and I find it a delightful way to take such a trip, free, as it is, from all the discomforts of sea voyaging, the annoyance of beggars and the liability of missing your train.

To the antiquarian and the student of history, foreign travel has its charms. America is not historically old, or if she be so, her history has not been written, and her ancient Rome and Caesars have been unsung. Her prehistoric age has not left their influence upon the life of today, as has the early civilization of the East. I sometimes wonder what the world's history would have been had there been no Rome, and had Grecian learning and Greek philosophy been wiped out forever.

The old world is full of interest to me because it is monumental. It is the storied urn of a mighty past, and the great battle-ground between barbarism and progress. Caesar Augustus, Nero, Pharaoh, Cleopatra, Alexander and Napoleon were all necessary for the final production of American freedom and civilization. I believe in evolution so far as governments are concerned. From the bad, the inadequate, the good and the satisfying must be evolved. The world needed a taste of tyranny and bear the yoke of cruelty before it could appreciate liberty.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Austin of Santa Barbara returned only a short time since from a trip of two and a half years abroad. They have brought home many rare and beautiful things, together with pictures of all the places of interest which they visited. I have been looking these photographs over and talking with them of what they say in the lands which front the centuries, till some of these points have become almost as familiar as if I had accompanied them on their journeyings in person.

As I have been looking these photographs over and talking with them of what they say in the lands which front the centuries, till some of these points have become almost as familiar as if I had accompanied them on their journeyings in person. American must delight to study. It is strange there how a few hours' ride will take the traveler among entirely different people, with customs and habits so different, and the distinctions of national individuality so strongly marked. What a wide difference between the polished Frenchman and the honest, plodding Dutchman; the Italian and the Austrian; between Catholic and Protestant countries? It is in the papal dominions that beggars are to be seen about the corners of the highways and the byways and stretch out dirty hands and arms covered with soiled rags to every passer-by throughout Italy. Misery and want and degradation abound amid the splendors of the Eternal City. Marble pillars, ancient ruins and modern palaces confront beggarly throngs of degraded humanity. The tyranny of the Caesars is not dead. It still affects the life of the people, even under the milder rule of today, for it takes centuries to weed out the seeds of oppression. The Old World is rich in her memories of the past; in her splendid ruins and marble palaces; in her treasures of art and her schools of learning, but the New World is richer in her measures of freedom and equality purchased through the blood of her martyrs.

Let us take a walk with our friends through the streets of Vienna, and amid the splendor of architecture and the treasures of art, what do we find? Go out on these broad and well-paved avenues, thronged with the busy life of the great city and see.

Here are women, barefooted and bareheaded, harnessed with dogs to carts, drawing their heavy burdens with the unnumbered century shining upon their faces. Let us stop by the wayside at this massive building which is being erected. It is grand and imposing in architectural design and finish, and is a monument of civilization. But who are the toilers—the architects of brick and mortar? Young, fair-haired, blue-eyed girls of not more than 14 tender years. Up, up they go, scaling the walls to the fourth and fifth stories, their slender shoulders laden with their heavy burdens. O, spirit of "Uncle Fritz," do you rest well as from the far heights of immortality you look down upon your "Vaterland" and behold such wrong and degradation?

Come with our friends to Holland, where the placid Dutch dwell, untroubled by the noise and bustle of the land stretches away in a dull monotony level; the only inspiration is the sea beating against its dykes as if striving to leap over their barrier and wipe out the land forever. See the canal along the land landscape and the slowly-moving barges loaded with coal. What power propels them along their way? Look closely, and you will see the fair-haired maiden, with tanned cheeks, harnessed like a horse, on the towpath, drawing that heavily-laden boat along its way. Are there no men on the barge, diligently smoking his pipe, sailing serenely along, and his arduous and responsible duty is to see that the frail girl does not shrink from her task. His shoulders are broad, and he is strong of limb and of gigantic proportions, but he will smoke in stolid content all day and give no thought of commiseration to the frail toiler harnessed to his barge, though the sun smites her with heat, and she goes faint and footsore along her way.

And this is civilized Holland in the nineteenth century of the Christian era. Go with us to Florence, and see the peasant women in their wooden shoes. Great loads are strapped upon their backs and they are but beasts of burden, while their husbands, proud of their manhood, walk by their sides, smoking their long pipes in the fullness of content. Said Mr. A.: "I saw only one man carrying a load upon his back. I think he must have been a widower."

Let American women stop fighting for the right of the suffrage and thank God for the respect and reverence and tenderness that is their portion in this new world of freedom.

TO THE POINT. The New York Sun to the New York Workingmen. [New York Sun.] There is only one country in Europe in which the wages of labor are within a half of what they are in this country. That is Great Britain.

Wages in Germany, France, Belgium and Switzerland are not one-third of what they are here. Those of Italy are not one-quarter.

One duty of government is to protect the labor of its citizens. Last year cheap foreign labor was imported into the United States in the shape of manufactured goods to the value of $92,728,708. This was a great wrong, and the American laborer in that immense amount of imports, permitted by our insufficient and defective tariff, the labor of women employed in the Manchester, England, cotton mills, whose wages do not average $200 a year, came into competition with the higher-priced labor of our southern and northern cotton spinners. In that mass of imports was the labor of German factory workmen averaging less than $115 a year, and that of women averaging less than $50 a year.

Munich is a gallery and center of art. German women with as many as six children saw wood in its streets for 15 cents a day. May a merciful God sink the United States 10,000 feet under the sea before the hideous spectacle shall become an incident of our civilization!

Nearly seven hundred million dollars' worth of the starvation labor of Europe in the form of manufactured goods imported into this country last year! That which came from Belgium in bales and boxes represented the wages of 22 cents a day for women and 43 cents for men; and the highest priced labor in loose cargoes of Belgian steel and iron represented wages less than 80 cents a day. Compared with these the wages of Carnegie's men at Braddock are the incomes of princes.

Italian labor in Italian merchandise was imported into this country last year, in competition with American labor, at prices that should have sent five souls with horror and alarm the thought for the future of the human race. The pay in the cotton factories of Naples is 20 cents a day; of the Neapolitan marble and granite cutters, from 40 to 50 cents a day, according to skill; of coachmen, 30 cents; of women in lace factories, 10 cents, and girls, 7 cents; of soldiers in the army, $2 a month. Of all the workmen in the glass works of Italy, only the skilled blowers receive as high as $1 a day; and laborers on farms hoeing or making hay from 15 to 18 cents a day, working from sun to sun. God save America from such wages!

In the Swiss silk goods which came into our half-protected country last year in those $700,000,000 of imports, was the skilled labor of men at 41 cents a day and women at 20 cents, both competing with the silk-weavers of Paterson, New York, Philadelphia and Cheney, Glasgow, in Scotland, is the steamship factory of the world, and its blast-furnace owners and iron-rollers howl for free trade day and night. Of the families in that manufacturing Sodom, 41,000 out of 100,000 live in one room, and half of the men and women in the city are chronically out of work. That one room, room of father, mother, daughters and sons tells what wages are in Scotland, and how they drag humanity down into bestiality and misery.

Brothers, the Mills Bill to reduce the tariff is the first step to that one room for an American family. Fight it without delay, and fight it to its death; and then make your tariff so protective as to shut out cheap foreign labor in the form of manufactured goods.

DR. EVANS AT THE HOLLENBACH HOTEL.

Wonderful If Not Miraculous Cure.

The Hollebenbach Hotel & Co. to be the scene of Dr. Evans' wonderful cures, and daily the throng to his parlors appears to increase; and so great is the demand for his services that he has been persuaded to prolong his stay in the city for thirty days longer.

Mr. George Sell, residing in Pomona, Cal., was brought to Dr. Evans at the Hollenbach Hotel two weeks ago a complete cripple from rheumatism; also a sufferer from catarrh and dropsy. He remained in town but one week under the treatment of Dr. Evans, when he was sent home a well man. His case was of six years' standing, and he had not only been treated by the best medical skill, but by the various agencies of electricity, and the removal of the bone as the only cure. Dr. Evans cured him by a few magnetic treatments, and he can now walk on his limbs as he has cured him. He is now engaged in his usual occupation, a well man.

Mrs. M. C. Toomy, corner Hays and Hoff streets, East Los Angeles, a complete invalid from neuralgia of the heart for sixteen years, cured by Dr. Evans by a few magnetic treatments.

Mr. J. W. Mills, corner Downey avenue and Pritchard street, catarrh and lung disease, was an invalid and unable to attend to business. Dr. Evans cured him by a few treatments. This gentleman will soon be able to resume his former occupation.

Mrs. Leve Foster, residing at 6 Diamond street, was a constant sufferer from neuralgia of the head and eyes, and had almost destroyed her sight. Dr. Evans cured her by a few magnetic treatments after the best physicians had failed. Scores of similar cases, including cases of deafness, paralysis, blindness, sciatica, disease of the liver, kidneys, lungs, dyspepsia, nervous debility, Bright's disease, diabetes, etc., can be referred to by calling at the Doctor's parlors at the Hollenbach Hotel, or attending his free treatments at Masonic Hall, 29½ South Spring street, where he will publicly heal the sick every morning from 10 to 11 o'clock. If you are skeptical as to Dr. Evans' wonderful magnetic power over disease you should not fail to attend Masonic Hall next Monday morning and be convinced.

His consultation at the Hollenbach Hotel is free. Admission to Masonic Hall, 29½ South Spring street, is also free.

SANTA ANA.

A BREEZY LETTER FROM A "TIMES" EMISSARY.

Something Approaching a Mob—Notes of Business and Business Men—Connection with the Seashore—Harbor Improvements.

SANTA ANA, July 24.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] I was always impressed with the saying that "Westward the star of empire takes its way," but taking Los Angeles as a focal point where everything centers and where everything radiates, I feel at present as if the aforesaid star was sailing about southeast, or towards Santa Ana. I arrived here Saturday evening. As soon as it became known that a TIMES representative was in town my room was besieged until it was so crowded that the feet of many were sticking out of the transom, and all clamoring for the paper. Of course I distributed all the copies I had with me, and took the names and coin of new subscribers far into the small hours of the night. Santa Ana is strictly a Sunday town. All business is suspended and the day devoted, as it should be, to higher purposes than that of human trade and traffic. I went to church Sunday morning, and in the afternoon, in company with Mr. H. B. Keeler, the genial manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe business at this point, made a trip to the Ocean-shells beach, distant about ten miles, seven of which was made on a dummy road and the balance by stage. The road is now running to Fair View, and will soon be completed to the beach. Work on a harbor here is being pushed by Santa Ana capitalists, headed by Mr. James McFadden, and soon here will be a great business point and a lovely resort under the auspices of Santa Ana, and connected with this city by rail. This, of course, will add largely to the business interests of the city. But the place has less need of such aids than any town I know of on the coast. Santa Ana was always a good town from the start. Nor is climate here sole stock in trade. This she has in common with other California towns, but the crowning feature is the contagious country, which is simply the best in the world. The bustle on the streets and the ring of the hammer from early morn till night plainly tells that business is brisk, and when you speak of dull times people look dumfounded. Cleveland and friends, of course, have few friends in such a community. I have met many of the leading citizens and business men, among them James McFadden, the large ranch owner, living one mile south of town. Mr. McFadden has his splendid ranch stocked with 400 head of fine cattle and a fine assortment of blooded horses and other stock, and as already intimated, is the leading light in the new harbor now being built near Newport. The reason for building the new wharf is because the present one is inadequate to answer the growing demands of the valley. George T. Insley is Marshal of the city. He is a smiling, jolly fellow, and ready to shake hands on the slightest provocation.

I also met Mr. W. H. Crane, the popular contractor and builder. Mr. Crane showed me several large buildings he has under way, and predicts the influx of great crowds from the East this fall.

Judge C. W. Humphrey, for 13 years established here, occupies himself by alternately loaning money, dealing out justice or acting as notary and conveyancer. The Judge is a Democrat, but takes THE TIMES, and, as the awful fact of Cleveland's near approach looms himself by turning to his business, real estate and insurance—which is extensive enough to keep several men busy.

C. M. Grepper & Bro. run the Santa Ana chop and oyster house, and, of course, read THE TIMES. Mr. J. C. Pierson reads THE MIRROR, and Mr. Neill does likewise.

Messrs. Grumbach & Schumacher are the ice and soda men of the city, and do a large business.

Another prominent contractor is Mr. Hedges.

But what house is not beautified by a carpet, and here is where Mr. R. W. Grant comes in. He has an immense stock of carpets, furniture, wall paper and so forth, and reads THE TIMES.

The Reinhaus Bros. are still in their old business merchandising. The leading candy factory is run by S. H. Titchener, who also deals in cigars, fruits, etc. Among the representatives of Blackstone here is E. E. Beech, who has his office at 455 Postoffice block. Mr. Keech is a young man, but is already enjoying a handsome practice. But I want to return to the furniture business. Another fine store of this kind is run by F. Bauerle & Son, where everything from a pillowcase to a cradle can be found. Among the leading grocers are Parker & Co. They carry everything in the grocery line, but make a specialty of Vermont maple sugar. The drug interests of the city are well represented, but H. R. Bristol seems to be a great favorite among all. And this leads to doctors. I met Dr. J. A. Crane. He is one of the pleasantest gentlemen I ever met, and a man whose profession brings him a comfortable income. He has a comfortable home, and is married to some of the men I met and with whose business I became acquainted. I cannot close without mention of Mr. H. N. Short, the veteran newspaper man. Mr. Short once ran the Santa Ana Times, and he started the Pomona Times, Covina Independent and many other papers on this coast, but the editor's sanctum knows him no more. After 17 years of service in the chair in California he has taken refuge in a job office, where, secure from social and political storms, he works and laughs and enjoys life.

Altogether, Santa Ana is a much better town than I had supposed, although acquainted with it for a number of years, and, considering the grand country that surrounds it, the push of its business men, its railroads, fine harbor and business interests in progress, it is safe to predict for this queen of the Santa Ana Valley a future that will surpass the present anticipations of the most sanguine. And so may it be.

Cleveland's Free-trade Ideas Please

The London Times, having a letter from President Cleveland in its possession, after quoting passages from it, editorially says: "It would hardly be possible to put the free-trade case more clearly or more strongly. The argument which Cleveland uses is one which Cobden used to employ 45 years ago, and which any English free trader would employ now. They are purely free-trade arguments, and, as such, we are glad to see Cleveland using them, though sorry for the popular infatuation which makes it dangerous to give them their right name."

FRESH LITERATURE.

SEA LEAVES. By CAMILLA K. VON R. Printed by the Independent Company.

This little volume has in it much of poetic tenderness and beauty. We catch the beat of the sea in its pulses, and its tender cadences are poured in its flowing rhythm. It holds also much of the beautiful atmosphere of the place where it was written. Nature must have crept into the heart of the author, and inspired her songs and set her thoughts in tune. It is said that California is the land of poets, and many there are who sing. But these "Sea Leaves" have a freshness and charm about them that will please like the June salty breath of the sea. The sea glimmers before our sight, sometimes in sunlight and sometimes in shadow, but it has something in keeping with all our moods, and so these songs are gay or sad with somewhat of a touch of varying feelings, while Nature's heart is throbbing beneath them all.

The following is the charming little prelude to the volume:

"What if some traveler should espie these leaves—
These summer sea-leaves lying on the sand?
Some stranger grows half weary of the land
Should rather up these strains my fancy weave."
With love and longing? Ah, my hope believes
Too much as fallen down that I could find
These sea-leaves flutter, they upon this
Shall water their bloom, shall die, while none
O, engine leaves, by furious tempest shocks
Torn rude and bleeding from your native
Point adumbrations only can give
Of that far underworld. The gift of speech
Betray to the century's vain quest,
Then why should song of mine presume to live?

Or "Italy and California" she sings as follows:

"Was it to see thy roses, Italy!
That men and women, friends and lovers
In chattering shoals across the continent?
Or for thy jasmine buds they braved the sea?"

"Was it to see the Alban smile on thee?
Ah, no! far otherwise. They only seek
The perfume of the century's vain quest,
And eul from thee the rose of memory!"

"Our own beloved needs no alien grace,
The east, a sepia glory of her face,
Her gracious tresses, flowers that intertwine,
Draw dashed whorl of every race.
She needs no staining touches on a shrine,
Needs not this stammering tenderness of mine."

BETWIXT, a tale, by LEWIS PENDLETON. New York: Cassell & Company (Limited) Publishers.

This volume is one of the popular "Sunshine" series of Cassell's "Choice Fiction." The story is laid at the South, and opens at the period just prior to the commencement of the War of the Rebellion. The first chapters are descriptive of the early life of the hero, a lonely boy, unloved for the later years of childhood and early manhood, fighting the battle of life as best he may alone. The story is full of shifting scenes and incidents of exciting interest, but ends happily, as all stories of the heart should. For sale by Lazarus & Meizer, Los Angeles.

A BACHELOR'S WEDDING TRIP. By H. M. Scott. The Pen Publishing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

The author's "apology" for the book is as follows:

"Upon the flames that licked the glowing logs; upon the wreath of fragrant smoke that floated above my head; faint Theory sported in a merry mood, while somber Practice shrank abashed into a shadowed corner of the room. 'Hail, Queen of Hope!' I cried; 'show to me visions of that wedded life, which thy sweet, beckoning lures so many maidens seek with eager feet and hearts at bursting for the radiant prize.'"

"They came, but cold-eyed Practice said: 'They are but air! And darkening mists arose where all was light. And in their figures stalked—shapes of alloy—and Joy was dimmed; but on her brow one star shone pure and bright. A star? A face! Love lit the glorious eyes; and on their beaus my soul was borne to heaven.'"

"The happy, happy, happy boy's head, and Practice close beside me, said again, 'All was but air!'

"Then Theory, wailing, cried, 'Nay, 'tis not true! All was not air! Linn with thy pen the visions thou hast seen; voice thy pen to every boy's heart, and let the tender, hidden thoughts mirrored for thy view; and they who read, comparing their own lives, shall cry with me 'Love lives and reigns, the monarch of the world! But Practice shook his head. And so the book was written.'"

MAGAZINES.

The Wide Awake is a fresh delight to the children with every month, and the July number is no exception to this rule. It opens with a delightful narrative of "Helen Keller," by Sallie Joy White, while a frontispiece presents a fine photograph of the little deaf, dumb and blind girl. Older readers will peruse the sketch with interest no less than the more juvenile ones. The story of "Plucky Smalls" is continued, and it is a story that will give heart to every boy's heart. "Evelyn's Choice," by Susan Coolidge, is one of the most charming of fairy stories, showing most conclusively that happiness cannot be bought with gold, and the choice of which other brings sorrow. "The Children of James Monroe," by Harriet Taylor Upton, takes the reader back a century or more, and affords us interesting glimpses of life in those old days. "The Little Princess," by Geraldine Butt, is a lovely story in verse, which all the children will be pleased to hear. These are but a few of the many delightful features of the July Wide Awake. D. Lathrop Company, Boston, Mass.

Literary Notes.

St. Nicholas for August comes to our table full of fresh, bright things for the young people. The opening "Story of the Sea Serpent" is well illustrated, and the other pages are of interest to old as well as young.

"The Prohibition Rocket" is the new name for the earnest exhortations now in process of delivery by a rather better class of life-long Democrats. They, who never mixed a drink while able to stand alone, now claim "prohibition" to be a noble cause, and then quietly retire behind a screen door and repeat what the governors of the Carolinas had to say to each other.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

ANOTHER BRACE OF LETTERS FROM LOS JOVENES.

From Denver to the Sea-Rabbits and Other Pets—"Waa!" to See the Wheels Go Round—"A Kite-making and a Bread-making Boy."

I was pleased to find, with the beginning of the week, two letters from the children for our column. I am going away for a little vacation this week, but I have left some one to take care of your letters, and see that they are printed in THE TIMES. I hope you will write enough to fill the whole column. I may see something of interest to write about while I am away, and you may be sure that I shall keep my eyes wide open, hoping to find something that my boys and girls will be glad to hear about.

The first letter which I have is from one of our girls who has written us before, and I am very glad that she writes again:

MCPHERSON, July 18, 1888.

Dear Mrs. Otis: I thought I would write another letter to you, and the boys and girls who write to THE TIMES. I was much pleased when I saw the letter Ida Morris wrote. She used to live just a little ways from our house, and I thought she was the best little girl I ever saw.

Two lady friends of mine have just come out from Denver, Colo. We took them to the ocean, and there they had their first salt-water bath. One of them was my school-teacher in Denver. They have not gone to San Francisco. I have not got many pets. I have a bird, and I have two rabbits, but one died, and the other got out of the pen or a cat caught it. I had a nice dog, too. His name was Jack, but he had a fit, and papa had to shoot him. So you see I have had luck with pets. I think we will go to the coast soon to stay two or three weeks. I think it is so nice to go in bathing, and I think it would be nice to go out boat-riding, too, but I am afraid. Last year, when we went down, I asked mamma if I could go, and she said yes. I was happy, but when it came time to go, I was afraid, so I have never asked to go again.

I think I have written enough for one time, so I will close.

Your friend,

MAUD TAYLOR.

And here is another letter, in which our correspondent tells us about her pets. It is too bad that she should lose her dog that she had so long:

COMPTON, July 17, 1888.

Dear Mrs. Otis: I like to read the Boys' and Girls' column in THE TIMES, and thought I would write a letter, too. I am 10 years old. I go to the public school at Compton. I live on a farm, about a mile from there. I have a great many pets. We will not have very much fruit this year, but I brought a little black and tan dog with me from Michigan. He was just as old as I was. I had always had him ever since I was a baby, but since I came out to California he got run over with the moving machine and was killed. I felt awful sorry about my dog. I must have felt sorry over your dog. I used to live in Michigan. I would like to go back there some time. The winters are pretty cold.

I would like to come up and see the print the papers, some day. I guess I will. I should like to see you up there when I come.

I see Daisy Steele wrote to you. I used to know her before she moved away from here.

Well, I will quit now, so good by, from your friend,

GEORGINA ROFFE.

I should be very glad to see my little friend at the Times Building. If she would see our big press in operation she must come on Friday morning, when they are printing the WEEKLY MIRROR, and I think that she will be very much interested to see how this wonderful machine prints so rapidly and so perfectly.

THE TIMES is printed early in the morning, before the boys and girls would be up. The only day when she would find the press at work—but any Friday morning we should be very glad to see her and show her how the printing is done.

LOS ANGELES, July 24, 1888.

Dear Mrs. Otis: I am a little boy 7 years old. I have never written to you before, but I write to my papa very often. He is in New York now. Mamma does not send me to school. She says the schools are bad places for such little boys. She thinks I can learn more at home. I get lessons almost every day and I don't have any long vacations, like the little boys that go to school. I can read in the third reader and spell hard words in the spelling book. I read stories to mamma and she reads to me every day. She gave me a dictionary and showed me how to find words. I do a good deal of work. Papa says that little boys ought to learn to do all kinds of work. I am learning to sew on the sewing-machine. When I am 8 years old I am going to make bread. I can make yeast now. I like best to make kites. I can make nice kites. When I am a man I mean to be a civil engineer, like papa. Sometimes I hold up the rod for him. I cannot write very well, but I will in a copybook and I hope I will soon write better. Your little friend,

WALTER DUNLAP.

SAN FERNANDO, July 26.

Dear Mrs. Otis: I am 10 years old. I live in San Fernando, 21 miles from Los Angeles. We have lived here four years, and this place has improved very much this last year. I go to school and like it very much. I study reading, spelling and arithmetic in the forenoon, and in the afternoon reading and spelling. We have only a few more days of school and then a long vacation, and I hope to go to the beach soon. This is my first letter. I must close.

Your friend, EVERETT TURNER.

What Am I To Do.

The symptoms of biliousness are unpalatable food, a heavy head, a sick stomach, a bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids at a morning. His tongue will hardly be in inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events. The digestive system wholly out of order, and diarrhea or constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often hemorrhoids or even piles, and there may be giddiness and often headache and acidity of flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this it is best to take a cure by Green's August Flower, it cures a cure and thousands attest its efficacy.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The Bituminous Lime Rock Paving and Improvement Company.

Take this opportunity of informing the citizens and property-owners of this city that the pavement laid on Main street, between First and Third streets, is not bituminous lime rock, but is an artificial mixture, and not laid by our company. We make this announcement for the purpose of disavowing the minds of those who entertain the belief that this pavement was laid by this company, and are disposed to criticize our material as being soft and not suitable for the streets of this city. The bituminous lime rock pavement here was laid by this company, and extends on Main street from the south line of Third to Ninth street, and on Spring street from Temple to Ninth street. Bituminous lime rock does not become soft and mushy under the heat of the sun, but always remains firm and elastic. We have already laid on the streets of this city about 500,000 square feet of this pavement, to which we take pleasure in inviting inspection. Very respectfully yours, Bituminous Lime Rock Paving and Improvement Company, J. A. FAIRBANKS, General Manager.

Today Bishop C. C. Pettit will preach in this city. In the forenoon he will be at 119 Reguena street, and in the evening he will preach in Opera-house Hall.

Quite a number of suits, for sums ranging from a few hundred dollars to $12,000, were begun in the Superior Court yesterday. The majority of them were on promissory notes.

All members of the "Royal Arcanum" interested in establishing a council in Los Angeles are requested to send their names to W. R. Mackendrick, at J. T. Sheward's, 13 North Spring street.

The Rev. Dr. Haskins of Brooklyn, N. Y., will preach at Christ Church, Opera-house Hall, this morning at 11 o'clock. Christ Church Parish is to give a reception this week to Dr. Haskins.

Plymouth Congregational Church, A. J. Well, pastor, will hold services in Los Angeles College, corner of Eighth and Hope streets. Sermon at 11 a.m. by the pastor. Subject: "Lessons from the Thorn."

The Los Angeles Gas Company is out with a card offering to furnish gas on the terms of any competitive company's pipes at $1 per 1000 feet, to all other consumers at $2.50 per 1000 feet. The war still rages.

The prohibitionists were out in force last evening in the vicinity of the courthouse, and for a couple of hours 400 or 500 people stood around on Market street listening to the more or less eloquent speeches delivered from the stand on Market street.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office, No. 6 Court street, for the following people: Henry McBride, Benjamin Capps, Charles Ferguson, James Barker, J. H. Abel, Carl A. Reed, Thomas Mills, M. A. Julian.

The Board of Equalization met in the Council chamber last evening, and adjusted several complaints. They will meet again Tuesday and Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and Friday evening at 7 o'clock to hear complaints and adjust differences.

There have been a number of rumors on the streets for the past two days of a prize-fight between a couple of blacksmiths early Friday morning, at some point in the suburbs, but diligent inquiry failed to discover any one who knew anything positive about it.

There was talk on the streets yesterday of a scheme among the Democrats to offer some inducement to the "Steers" White to enter the race again for District Attorney, but up to a late hour the rumor had not been confirmed. It is not believed that Mr. White will consent to the sacrifice.

By special orders just issued from headquarters leave of absence for one month has been granted to Capt. A. H. Bowman and Capt. J. M. Lee, Ninth Infantry, and four months to Sergeant Peter Van Haaren, Ninth Infantry, and Private Robert Guitiz, of the band, Sixth Cavalry.

Licenses to marry were yesterday issued to Charles S. Dougherty, aged 27, and Alice Baker, aged 19, residents of Santa Ana and Alhambra; Joel M. M. Clanton, aged 38, and S. B. Steiman, aged 38, both of Los Angeles; and several others.

There was to have been a meeting of the Board of Freeholders yesterday afternoon, but for some cause the members did not get together, and the Council chamber was not opened. A meeting will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when the work of revision will be taken up and pushed to a conclusion.

At the Cathedral services, at 10 o'clock this morning, Marz's Mass, a fine composition in Spanish style, will be rendered. Gardner, organist; Mrs. O'Connell, soprano; Mrs. Gardner, alto; Mr. Hanan, tenor; Mr. Lamb, bass, and a fine chorus.

A little newboy named Antonio Perez met with a severe accident at the corner of Second and Spruce streets, Sunday night. The boy ran across the street to see a paper, when he stumbled and fell, his head striking on a block of stone lying in the street, cutting off several ribs. Perez was taken to the police station, where his wounds were dressed and he was sent home.

A celestial named Tong Yet Leng, who has been employed for several years and who had saved up his hard earnings to the amount of $650, with which he contemplated a trip to China, was robbed of all his money last night by a Chinese band of four. He claims that a celestial maiden named Keng Yoke called a couple of her henchmen into the room, and that they held him while she took away his money. Leng swore out a warrant against the robbers yesterday.

George Simond, a lad about 15 years old, was taken in yesterday for robbing a "napkin racket" on people about town. He carried a small bundle of napkins with him, which he offered to sell, and made this a pretext for telling a nifty story about his trunk being detained by a heartless lodging-house keeper and his fruitless search for a long-lost father. He thus managed to pick up a number of money and out-and-out charity from tender-hearted people. It is believed that he is a sneak thief and uses this means to spy out available places to rob.

The Collector of the Port of San Diego, T. J. Arnold, and Mrs. Arnold, are in this city. Mr. Arnold came up to testify in the Whitelaw smuggling case.
